Annual Portfolio Assessment

You are considering an annual portfolio assessment to review your child's academic progress. This option allows us to view your student's work completed over a specified period of time, most likely a full school year. Because this may be a new type of assessment for you and your child, the following suggestions are given to help you prepare a well-organized portfolio. The more complete and organized your portfolio is for each student, the easier it is for us to discuss the contents with you and your child. We have found that parents and students are amazed at both the amount of material gathered and the noticeable improvement in the work from start to finish of the year.

Provide a written summary of the year for each homeschooled child. Include the following information. If you combined studies or used unit studies with more than one child, a combined summary can be written.

Portfolio Report Contents

1. Name of child, address, age, grade and school year.
2. Attendance for your school year: _____ school began _____ school ended
_____ days of school
3. Description of each course, including each main textbook or resources. These courses would include your state's required courses as well as your student's more creative courses and 'electives'.
4. Field trips (site names and place)
5. List special projects your child did. Your child might want to show us a special project via photos, etc.
6. What areas of growth did you see for your child?
7. Provide an extensive sample of your student's work from the beginning, middle, and end of the year must be brought in. Do not bring in every assignment, but just a very good representative sample.
8. Remember to bring your teacher plan book with you. It is important for us to review your record keeping techniques so that suggestions can be given for the next year.
9. Relax and enjoy this time of reflection and joy. You all have worked hard this year. We look forward to discussing the year's progress and pursuits with you and your children. To schedule a phone consultation or in-office meeting, please call our office at the above phone number.
